1847.
PORT REGULATIONS SHANGHAI.

The following regulations, published by direction of H. M. plenipotentiary, in the China Mail, from which we copy them, indicate a state of things at Shanghai very different, in some respects, from what exists at Canton, especially in the limits foreigners are allowed for exercise.

1. The Limits of the Port, on the sea side, are defined within the Lines formed by Paou-shan Point bearing west, and the Battery on the right bank at the mouth of the river below Woosung bearing south-west. The Anchorage for loading and discharging cargo is off the Custom House, and extends from the river called the Woosung Kow to that called the Yang-King-Pang. For more detailed instructions on this head, the taking in and discharging of ballast, &c., &c., masters of vessels are required to apply at the Consulate.

2. Pilots can be obtained at Woosung to bring vessels up. In case of necessity, a gun will always bring one off, but the usual signal should first be hoisted. Pilots to take vessels down can be obtained at Shanghai, on application at the Consulate. Each pilot is authorised by Letter under the consular seal to act; and the amount he is duly authorised to demand as a just remuneration for his services, is specified therein.

3. All vessels must be moored within the period of two tides from the time of their arrival at the anchorage, and in no case can a vessel, after she is moored, move or shift her berth, without permission from the Consulate.

4. Masters of vessels will report themselves within twenty-four hours after arrival, unless Sunday should intervene; and they will strictly attend, in all other points, to Article III., of the General Regulations of Trade.

5. Masters requiring to heach their vessels for the purpose of inspection or repair, must apply at the Consulate for instructions.

6. No goods can be landed, shipped, or trans-shipped after sunset or before sunrise, or between Saturday evening and Monday morning; and no work is to be done on board vessels in harbour on Sunday, except such as may be necessary for the cleanliness and safety of the ship.

7. The discharge of fire-arms from the merchant vessels in harbor is strictly prohibited, as also from the residences of British subjects.

8. Masters of vessels are required to report any passengers at the same time as the arrival of the ship; and seamen and persons belonging to the vessels in harbour are not to be permitted to go on shore without a responsible officer in charge—the masters being held distinctly responsible for the conduct of their men on shore. In the event of any men on liberty remaining on shore after sunset, the master is required without delay to send an officer to find and take them on board. Due and timely notice must also be given of the number and the names of passengers on board of any vessels leaving the port.

9. All cases of death, whether on board a British vessel, or on shore in the residence of a British subject, must be reported within twenty-four hours, together with the best information attainable of the cause of death in cases of sudden demise, to H. M. Consul, who will give directions respecting the place of interment.

10. Accidents involving personal injury, loss of life or of property, whether on shore, or in the river from collision of vessels, to be reported at the Consulate as soon as practicable; and in cases of theft, peculation, or assault, where British and Chinese subjects are both concerned, a Chinese, if guilty of any criminal act, and there be no officers of his country at hand, may be conveyed to H. M. Consul. But under no circumstances will British subjects be permitted to use violence to Chinese offenders, or take steps against the Chinese for the redress of their grievances.

11. The distance to which British subjects may proceed into the interior for exercise or pleasure, is limited by the time required for the excursion. Twenty-four hours has been fixed as the longest period of absence from Shanghai. This permission does not extend to sailors.

12. All British subjects are required to register at the Consulate within twenty-four hours after their arrival in the port, masters of vessels, their officers, and crew borne on the ship's papers excepted.

MEDICAL MISSIONARY SOCIETY IN CHINA.

This was originated in October 1836, and first organized in February 1838. For the last year or two, some unhappy differences of opinion, among its officers, have prevented that complete cooperation which is especially desirable in all benevolent institutions. Still it is satisfactory to know, that the labors of the Society are continued, and with the most happy results. Hospitals, under its direction, have been established at Canton, Hongkong, Macao, Amoy, Ningpo, and Shanghái; at all of which places, with one exception, they are now continued. It is ardently wished that the same unanimity, which formerly existed, may soon again be witnessed in the operations of this excellent Institution.

The printed Reports of the Hospitals afford ample and pleasing proofs of their great and widely extended benefits, enjoyed already by several tens of thousands in various parts of the Chinese empire. The hospitals have been under the care of—

Dr. Parker, at Canton; Dr. Hobson, at Hongkong (now absent); Dr. Hepburn, at Amoy (now absent); Dr. Maegowan, at Ningpo; Dr. Lockhart, at Shanghái.

CHINA MEDICO-CHIRURGICAL SOCIETY,

At Hongkong.

This was established in Hongkong, May 1845, and its Transactions have been published in a small volume, comprising a variety of interesting documents. We have no complete list of its officers.

MORRISON EDUCATION SOCIETY.

Office-bearers for the year ending September 1847.
H. E. Sir J. F. Davis, bart. &c., &c., Patron.
Rev. E. C. Bridgman, esq., President.
A. Campbell, Esq., Vice-president.
D. Matheson, Esq., Treasurer.
C. B. Hillier, Esq., Corresponding Secretary.
J. Stewart, Esq., Recording Secretary.

The following are the Minutes of its last general meeting, held in Hongkong, September, 1846.

The Eighth Annual Meeting of the Members and Friends of the Morrison Education Society was held at 6 p.m. on the 31st September, 1846.

The President, the Rev. Dr. Bridgman, having, in a brief address, noticed the improved prospects of the Institution, and touched on the loss it had so recently sustained by the much regretted death of Dr. Dill, one of its most active officers, the several Reports annexed were read to the Meeting; after which the following Resolutions were carried without dissent, short and appropriate remarks having been made by each proposer:—

1. Proposed by the Rev. W. C. Milne, seconded by Dr. Balfour.—That the Reports just read be accepted and published under the direction of the Trustees.

2. By J. Cairns, Esq., seconded by Dr. Gilbert.—That the collection of Annual Subscriptions and Donations be made as soon as the Annual Report shall have been printed.

3. By the Rev. V. Stanton, seconded by A. Shortrede, Esq.—That, as it has become necessary, on account of Mrs. Brown's protracted illness, for Mr. Brown to leave China for a time, the Society request the Trustees to commission him, as their accredited agent, to collect funds, during his absence, for the enlargement and permanent maintenance of the Morrison Education Society's School.

In accordance with the above, the Rev. Mr. Brown has been commissioned, as will be seen by the following circular letter.

This Society was organized at Canton on 9th of November, 1839, under the direction of a Provisional Committee, consisting of Sir G. B. Robinson, Bart., Messrs. William Jardine, Lancelot Dent, D. W. C. Oliphant, J. R. Morrison, and the Rev. E. C. Bridgman.

It was named in honour of the late Rev. Robert Morrison, a. d., the first Protestant Missionary to China, who furnished the most valuable key to the Chinese language yet extant, and whose labours as a missionary, Oriental scholar, and servant of his Government are so well known throughout Christendom; and it was formed with a view to carry out one branch of the great work to which he had devoted his life.

The object of the Institution is to establish and support schools in China, in which native youths shall be taught, in connection with their own, the English language, so as to open to them the stores of knowledge of which it is the repository, and at the same time, by sound religious training and instruction, to raise them to the rank of enlightened Christian men. It is the belief of those most conversant with the state of things in this country, that the hope of civilized and evangelizing the Chinese can in no way be realized so speedily as by conjoining a vigorous system of educational efforts with the ordinary means of propagating the gospel. The agency to affect the masses of this populous empire, and to produce any great and desirable change among a people so far civilized, but yet pagan, must be chiefly a native agency. To prepare this from among the young men of the country, is the great aim of the Morrison Education Society. It does not propose to give them a professional education, but a general one, which shall serve to qualify them for the spheres of action for which they may be fitted, whether by their abilities or their principles. To this end, it has, during the last seven years, carried on its operations through a school, which, since the Peace of 1842, has been established at Hongkong. Here native boys have been collected, and while enjoying the privileges of a Christian family, have, besides studying the Chinese, been particularly instructed in the English language, through which they have been made acquainted with Western science and history, but especially have learned to read the Sacred Scriptures, and have been daily taught the way of life.

The difficulty of obtaining teachers, and the interruptions peculiar inevitable to new undertakings, with the obstacles arising from the jealousy of the Chinese people, formerly rendered it necessary to work upon a limited scale. But now two foreign teachers are employed by the Society, and in future efficient and valuable assistance in the department of instruction may be derived from the pupils who have completed their course. The prejudices which at first prevented parents from sending their children to the school, and often led them to withdraw them in the midst of their studies, are rapidly declining, and already applications for admission are more numerous than the state of the funds will admit. This change furnishes to the Society a strong reason for extending its operations. Instead of thirty pupils, to which the School has hitherto been limited, there should be at least twice the number. But to accommodate them, it is necessary that the Society’s building be enlarged, the space it affords being scarcely enough for the present members of the school. The annual expenditure of the Society now amounts to about $4000. To enable the building will require an outlay of about $5000 (£1000), after which the increased expense of the Society will be about $6000 (£1200) per annum. Of this sum nearly $1000 are now provided for by a Fund; and the remaining $5000 must be supplied by Yearly Subscriptions and Donations, or by establishing a Fund of about $75,000, or £15,000.

“The Rev. S. R. Brown, who has had the charge of the School since its establishment, is commissioned to receive such Missions as the benevolents in England and America may be disposed to give.”

“The want of the work proposed by the Society, the condition of the 300,000,000 of idolaters in China, the facilities for the diffusion of Christian knowledge among them, which, since the late war, have been greatly increased, the growing eagerness with which admission into the School is now sought, the inadequacy of the existing means to meet these demands, and the reciprocal obligations of those nations that derive so much advantage from their trade with this country—all call upon the Christians and philanthropists of England and America to lend their aid to so good a work.”

“From this school the merchant may obtain honest and trustworthy assistants, foreign governments able and educated interpreters, and especially it is hoped that here Missionary Societies will find helpers prepared to their hand, in active, intelligent young men, who, with the true spirit of the Gospel, nurtured and strengthened by constant familiarity with Christian observances, will be ready to carry the message of life to their countrymen.”

“E. C. BRIDGMAN, President of the Morrison Education Society.”

“A. CAMPBELL, Vice-President.”

“VICTORIA, HONGKONG, December 12th, 1846.”

CHRISTIAN MISSIONS IN CHINA.

The Roman Catholics have missions in nearly all the provinces: but we have not the means of giving the exact number of those connected with them; as an approximation to the truth, it may be stated, that they have (See Chi. Rep. June, 1846.)

12 Bishops;
8 Coadjutors;
60 European priests;
90 Native priests;
350,000 Baptized members.

The Protestant Missions are comparatively of recent origin and of very limited extent, as the subjoined statements will show: they have been undertaken by the following societies.

1. The London Missionary Society;
2. Netherlands Missionary Society;
3. The Rhenish Missionary Society;
4. The American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions;
5. The American Baptist Board of Foreign Missions;
6. The American Episcopal Board of Foreign Missions;
7. The London Church Missionary Society;
8. The American Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions;
