FAQs re Intercalation in Academic Year 2019 - 20

1. Why do students intercalate?

Students intercalate for a variety of reasons. For many students, intercalation offers the opportunity to study a subject area in greater depth. Intercalation can also provide the chance to explore current trends in research alongside international experts, as well as focus on a research project that lead to opportunities to present your work at conferences or result in a publication. In addition to these academic benefits, intercalation will allow you to further develop transferable skills such as critical thinking, evaluating evidence, researching literature and academic writing. Intercalating will also enable you to make friends away from your professional programme and experience life as a student away from the extensive timetable.

2. When can I intercalate?

Medical Students

- Current Year 2 MB21 medical students can only intercalate between Year 3 and Year 4.
- Current Year 3 medical students no longer have the opportunity to intercalate.
- Current Year 4 medical students will be allowed to intercalate for 2019/20 only.

Veterinary students can only intercalate between Year 3 and 4.

Dental students usually intercalate between Year 2 and Year 3.

3. Will everyone who applies get to intercalate?

We cannot guarantee a place to every student who applies for intercalation. Where there is competition for places, offers may be made on the basis of past academic performance or supplementary forms.

4. What are the grade requirements (and/or any other requirements) for each programme on average?

There are no specific grade requirements, and the requirements will vary from programme to programme. Schools (departments) offering intercalated degrees may consider your unit or year marks to date or your supplementary form application.

5. How many students does each intercalation programme take on average?

There is a wide variation in numbers per intercalation programme and it isn’t possible to calculate an average. It can also vary from year to year. For one-year entry onto the 3-year courses it will depend upon how many of their home students are progressing from year 2 to the final year. They may also have applications from dental, veterinary and external students.

6. Do any courses comprise intercalators only?

Global Health, Bioethics, Genomic Medicine, Medical Humanities, Functional and Clinical Anatomy & Clinical Sciences.

7. Do I need to write application essays or be interviewed for all the courses?

There is no second stage to the application process unless there are exceptional circumstances. Some programmes (e.g. Bioethics, Global Health) have additional requirements which might include review of written work you have submitted or additional forms.

8. How many internal applications can I make? Do I need to list them in order of preference on the form? What happens if I change my mind about my first choice later and want to switch them around?

You can make three internal applications. You must list them in order of preference on the application form. It is not possible to change your preferences after the deadline unless there are exceptional circumstances, in which case you are advised to discuss this with the intercalation administrator by emailing intercalation-admin@bristol.ac.uk.

9. How many external applications (to other universities) can I make? Who should I speak to about making an external application?

You are permitted to apply to intercalate at another university provided the course you are interested in is not also offered at Bristol. There are no restrictions on the number of external applications you can make. It is up to you to research the application processes, deadlines etc. Please keep the intercalation administrator informed and complete a UOB application form even if you are not applying to intercalate here. Please discuss your plans with your Programme Director.

You will need documents to support your application.

- Ask the intercalation administrator for a transcript of your marks.
- Ask the appropriate individual (Programme Director or nominee) for a letter of permission to study elsewhere. Make sure you tell that person which university and which course you are applying to.
- Ask your academic mentor or personal tutor for a reference.

If you accept an offer from another university you will be required to suspend your studies for one academic year. This will require the signature of the appropriate Director.

10. Can I apply to Bristol programmes and externally at the same time?

You may make internal and external applications at the same time. However, when an offer on a Bristol programme is made to you, you will need to make a decision to accept the Bristol place (and forfeit external intercalation) or decline the Bristol offer (thus forfeiting their place to intercalate within Bristol). For external applications, please see above.

11. What if I accept an offer to intercalate and then decide that I actually don’t want to do it?

By signing the acceptance form on an intercalation programme, you are committed to intercalating.

12. Can I intercalate and get a Masters degree?

Students need to have completed the third year of their programme to be eligible for Masters degree programmes. The one-year degrees available are: Masters of Research (MRes) in Health Sciences, Masters of Research (MRes) in Health Sciences with a focus on Translational Cardiovascular Medicine, the MSc in Translational Cardiovascular Medicine itself, and the MSc in Transfusion and Transplantation Sciences. Veterinary students can also apply for the MSc in Global Wildlife Health and Conservation. Due to funding constraints the MRes/MSc degree will be awarded at the same time as the MB ChB, BDS or BVSc degree and not immediately after completion of the intercalation year.
13. What bursaries/funding support are available?

Please refer to the Student Funding office for detailed financial advice.

14. Is it better for me career-wise to do X or Y?

There is no evidence-based answer to this question and any answer would be personal opinion. Perhaps what is most important are the skills that you develop by undertaking the degree. You may wish to read the following articles:

15. What is an Academic Foundation Programme? Do I need an intercalated degree?

See: http://www.foundationprogramme.nhs.uk/pages/home

16. 'I've had to resit exams. Will that affect my application to intercalate?'

If you had extenuating circumstances that were accepted by the panel and resat an exam as a first attempt your unit mark will not be capped. If your resit examination was a second and final attempt your unit mark will be capped at 50. You can still apply to intercalate but you may not be successful as your average unit mark will be calculated using the capped mark.

17. Further information?

Please refer to the intercalation website for details of the list of programmes that are available at Bristol (www.bristol.ac.uk/intercalate). Other applicants are welcome to contact the intercalation administrator (intercalation-admin@bristol.ac.uk) to request further information.

18. Deadlines?

The deadline for receipt of applications is 12 noon Monday 14th January 2019 for Veterinary students and 21st January 2019 for Medicine and Dentistry students. Schools offering intercalated degrees will be asked to send their decisions to the intercalation administrator by Friday 1st February 2019 and offers can be collated and published the following week. Every effort will be made to place applicants but as this is a fairly complex process, students may not all hear about their offers at the same time.
