'Who Wrote Shakespeare?'

Well, that's an easy one, surely? We need no ghost come from the grave to tell us that! Or is it? There have been many doubts expressed about the eligibility of the Man from Stratford and various alternative contenders have been named as the rightful author (or possible co-authors) of the plays.

Come and hear the arguments and express your own views in a lively debate. Andrew Hilton, Founder-Director of Shakespeare At The Tobacco Factory will be putting the case for the Number One seed. (Well, he would, wouldn't he ...)

13th October 2008, 5.30 pm
